VIII. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION or EXPLANATIONS.

1. (Part III): I have received the approval of the Chief Judge to teach at the University of Chicago. This income therefore is "outside earned income" rather than an "honorarium" within the meaning of the Ethics Reform Act of 1989. I accepted gross income exceeding the statutory cap (15% of Level II of the Executive Schedule) because, under §3(b) of the regulations of the Judicial Conference implementing this statute, "outside earned income" includes only net taxable income, and therefore excludes pension contributions as well as the "ordinary and necessary expenses paid or incurred in producing this income." Some of the income reported in Part III was contributed to a pension plan through the University of Chicago as part of a salary reduction plan and therefore does not count for statutory purposes. Moreover, the ordinary and necessary expenses of producing the income—including the cost of commuting between the courthouse and the Law School, fees for parking at the University, and the expenses of equipment and books for my Law School office—are substantial. Net taxable income is less than the statutory maximum.

2. (Part V) The Union League Club extends to federal judges the privilege of using the Club's facilities without formal membership. Between January and June 2003 it charged $45 per month for these privileges; the charge increased to $55 monthly effective July 2003. The difference between this and the market value is a gift, but whether there is any difference and, if so, its size, is difficult to determine. Judges pay the same for meals, haircuts, and other services as do regular members of the Club.

3. (Part VII): Dividends and capital gain distributions from the mutual funds marked "See Part VIII" are reinvested automatically monthly. Shares were purchased and sold in the Vanguard Money Market Trust occasionally. I treat this as a checking account, and as in past years I do not report these flows (as opposed to year-end balances). Sales of shares from the Vanguard Municipal Bond Fund in 2003 fall into value code K, and sales of shares from the Vanguard Index Trust fall into value code K.

4. (Part VII): While I was employed full-time by the University of Chicago preceding my appointment to the court, and again since 1992, pension contributions under a defined contribution plan were made on my behalf. TIAA-CREF holds the funds contributed before 1983 (value code M). Pension contributions since 1983, and supplemental retirement annuity contributions since 1982, are held by the Vanguard Group, which also holds pension contributions made on my behalf during 1981-84 by Lexecon Inc., plus

IRA contributions during that period. "Vanguard Retirement Portfolio" is an umbrella designation for these assets. Access to all funds in the Vanguard Retirement Portfolio is blocked until I reach retirement age. Vanguard invests these monies in four of its funds: Vanguard Money Market Reserves Prime Portfolio; Vanguard Fixed Income Securities Fund Long-Term Corporate; Vanguard Fixed Income Securities Fund High-Yield Corporate; and Vanguard International Value Portfolio. Investments within the Vanguard Retirement Portfolio may change from time to time, but only from one mutual fund to another (never to stock in an individual firm), making a consolidated listing desirable.
