longevity, and 80% ratio individual's production for 3 years bears to total firm production for 3 years. Under the agreement my distributive share will be determined at the end of the calendar year and payable within 120 days. After this calendar year any income received by the firm attributable to my work is to be distributed to me less an amount equal to the percentage of firm overhead for this year. The only such future income expected is one fee which is being paid over a period of years from which I will receive approximately $300 per month until 2003. When I leave the firm I will be entitled to payment of a capital account fixed at $12,000, payable after the end of the year.

Albritton Real Estate has no written partnership agreement. Its assets consist solely of a jointly owned office building and parking lot which is rented to Albrittons, Givhan & Clifton, my law firm. The building has no other tenant. Joint owners divide the rental income annually in proportion to their ownership interests. I own a 1/5 interest. Other joint owners are John B. Givhan (a law partner of mine), Ophelia Albritton (widow of a deceased law partner), and the Robert B. Albritton Trust (my mother is the sole beneficiary).

January 1, 1984

Interest in the American Bar Association Members Master Keogh Profit Sharing Plan set up through my law firm. This is a separate account which will be vested when I leave the firm and the firm will have no connection with it thereafter.
