☐ NONE (No additional information or explanations.)

I did not perform any adjudicatory function in any litigation during this period in which I was aware that I, my spouse, or my minor children had a financial interest as defined in Canon 3C(3)(c). As a District Court Judge, I filed on May 14, 1997 a Financial Disclosure Report for the calendar year 1996. In the preparation of that Financial Disclosure Report, I discovered that my spouse's serving as the co-trustee and co-executor of his father's will constitutes a "financial interest." My father-in-law died on July 20, 1996, and my husband became co-executor and co-trustee of the estate. The assets of the estate remained in the estate through December 31, 1996, and were not distributed yet to the trusts for the widow provided for in the will. On October 10, 1996, I issued a final decision in a civil case where Allstate Insurance Company was a party and no appeal was filed. At the time of the decision, I was not aware that the estate of my father-in-law owned certain stock of Allstate Corporation. In May, 1997, during the preparation of the Financial Disclosure Report for the calendar year 1996, I became aware that my husband's being the co-trustee and co-executor constituted a financial interest, even though the income from the estate has been going to his mother, and I also became aware that the estate owned some Allstate Corporation stock. Upon discovery, I immediately disclosed this to the parties in the terminated civil case. The parties subsequently waived any conflict or appearance of conflict and did not seek any recusal.
