VIII. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION OR EXPLANATIONS. (Indicate part of report.)

Part IIIB: My wife owns Rock Me Baby Records, Inc., an S-corporation. She draws income as an employee, the amount of which I did not list, pursuant to instructions on page 17 ("If spouse is self-employed in business or a profession, only the nature of such business or profession and the words 'self-employed' should be reported . . ."). Last year (reporting year 2014), I listed the company as an investment in Part VII because the company has value and my wife owns the company. After filing my report last year, I received a letter from the Judicial Conference of the United States Committee on Financial Disclosure stating, "In the future, your wife's salary from "Rock Me Baby Records, Inc." should be reported in III.B as non-investment income instead of Parts VII or VIII . . .". Nonetheless, because, aside from any income my wife earns, her company constitutes an asset, I continued to list this company as an asset in Part VII. Further, pursuant to the above quoted instructions from page 17, however, I did not include her salary in spite of the above quoted language from the letter the Committee on Financial Disclosure sent me. My assumption is that the Committee did not realize that my wife is the sole proprietor of her business, as described on page 17 of the instructions.

Part VII, lines 17-18: In 2015, Hewlett Packard Inc. split into two companies. As a result, my stock was divided into each company as reflected by the new entries for HP Inc. and HP Enterprises Co.

Part VII, lines 28-35 and 78-85 relate to 529 accounts for two of my children. Vanguard automatically changes the asset pool in which these funds are invested as my children grow older. I reported this change and the date it happened. However, because I did not receive a distribution, I do not have additional information to report as part of section D.
